

NEW BOOK RELEASE :

HOW TO INVEST IN SHARES & MUTUAL FUNDS - A BASIC BOOK FOR INVESTORS

By
Dr. L. C. Gupta
Formerly Member of SEBI
& Naveen Jain
Associate Professor of Commerce
Hansraj College, Univeristy of Delhi

ISBN : 9788174791160

Year : 2011

Price : Rs. 180/-

The book is hard-bound and covers xx+92 pages.

How to order:

Those interested may send crossed Account Payee cheque for Rs. 180/- in favour of “Society for Capital Market Research & Development”, clearly giving your complete address for sending the book by courier.

The book can also be purchased from the publisher, viz;

Kaveri Books
1832/24, Ansari Road
Daryaganj
Delhi – 110 002

CONTENTS OF THE BOOK

1	INTRODUCTION	1-3
	Need for a book for ordinary investors Understand the equity market’s characteristics Analytical tools IPOs vis-à-vis existing shares The Demat System Other aspects
2	SOME BASIC FINANCIAL CONCEPTS REGARDING SHARE INVESTMENT	4-14
	Understanding the market’s terminology The EPS The P/E Ratio The theoretical model Market’s average P/E Ratio Equity market’s volatile character Earnings yield Dividend yield Dividend vis-à-vis capital appreciation Bonus shares Book value per share Beta: Meaning and significance

3	CHOOSING THE RIGHT COMPANIES FOR INVESTING	15-21
	Importance of choosing the right companies How to choose the right companies Attributes of good management Dividend distribution policy Limit your share portfolio Extreme caution needed Invest within your circle of competence
4	INVESTING IN INITIAL PUBLIC OFFERS (IPOs)	22-33
	Historical Background IPOs vis-à-vis buying existing shares Relationship of new issue market to secondary market Empirical data Bewildering variety of IPOs Quotas for investor categories Key role of the promoters Angel investors Private Equity Firms Venture capitalists Grading of IPOs The grades Grading is done by credit rating agencies Shortcomings of IPO grading system The reality of IPO performance Need for caution Too much subjectivity Credit rating versus IPO grading Concluding Comments
5	THE SHARE PRICE BEHAVIOUR OVER THE LONG-TERM	34-41
	Need for historical perspective Actual behaviour of Indian equity prices Equity prices over the long-term Short-term price behaviour Dividend vs. capital appreciation Be prepared for wild swings
6	SHARE BUYBACKS BY COMPANIES	42-47
	Relatively new practice in India How share buybacks can help The promoter's viewpoint Empirical findings on effect of share buyback Methods of share buyback More transparency needed

7	CORPORATE GOVERNANCE OF LISTED COMPANIES: THE INVESTOR'S ANGLE	48-54
	Growing importance Historical background U.K.'s Cadbury committee Consequences of Enron debacle of 2001 Need for clarity Listing Agreement specifies the requirements Independent Director's Role Independent Director defined Executive and Non-Executive Directors Audit Committee Disclosure requirements Working of the independent director system Concluding comments
8	THE SECURITIES DEPOSITORY SYSTEM	55-58
	Historical background Depositories and Depository Participants Procedural formalities Competitive system Transfer of an account from one DP to another DP Concluding comments
9	INVESTING IN MUTUAL FUNDS	59-72
	Convenient and economical Entry load abolished by SEBI Type of Mutual Fund Schemes Equity schemes Net asset value (NAV) concept Closed-end and open-end schemes Future performance is the key Direct shareholding - some advantages Narrow diversification works well The practical angle Systematic investment plan (SIP) When is SIP advantageous Example How the investor can overcome the disadvantage Exchange-traded funds Gold exchange-traded funds
10.	UNDERSTANDING AND INTERPRETING THE ACCOUNTING STATEMENTS	73-79
	The Income Statement Top-line and bottom-line Depreciation provision Net operating income Net profit

Earning per share
EPS vs. Cash flow
Dividends are tax free
Dividend Policy
The Balance Sheet
The danger of excessive debt
Promoter group's key role

Glossary

80-90

Index

91-92